Mission 44 Calls For Government Intervention To Reduce Record Number Of UK School Exclusions

As school exclusions reach record numbers, Mission 44, Sir Lewis Hamilton's Charitable foundation, launches the 'Nothing Happens in Isolation' campaign aimed at supporting students most at risk of exclusion through early intervention.

As part of the campaign, Mission 44 has published a first of its kind report which explores opinions of those at the heart of the issue - including teachers, parents and students.

Mission 44's report found that, in most cases, teachers spotted early warning signs from students that go on to be excluded, further highlighting the crucial role of early intervention.

Mission 44 is now calling on the Government to take action to address the root causes of exclusions, in an effort to turn the tide on record exclusion rates across UK schools. Mission 44 also recommends four priority areas, with policy recommendations, for the Government to take action on.
